

Research Fellowship

Application Components

The application for a t2pRI Fellowship consists of the following elements:

- A 3-5 page proposal describing the research, including background, significance, literature review summary, research question, methods, and expected practical applications and timeline.
- A 2-page project bibliography.
- CV including past publications and presentations
- A proposed budget for the research
- Two recommendations.

Evaluation Criteria

Demonstrated excellence of applicant and proposed research project, including:

- Alignment of proposed research with t2pRI interest areas.
- Project quality, including intellectual merit and contribution to the field.
- Anticipated practical application of the findings to organizations, including businesses and nonprofits, and individuals wishing to develop their leadership.
- Proposed use of funds.

Application Submission Process

Applications should be submitted to Kate Berman at kberman@t2pri.org by the specified deadline date.

Review Process

Only completed applications will be reviewed. The review process consists of two steps:

3. The completed application will be reviewed and ranked by the t2pRI Fellowship Review Committee, consisting of members of the t2pRI Board of Directors.
4. Highly-ranked applicants will be invited to interview with the t2pRI Fellowship Review Committee.

A final decision will be made on the basis of the above two steps.
